LIFE-SAVING CONTESTS

SLATED FOR JUNE 25

Knowledge of Various Methods to Be Demonstrated at Washington Canoe Club.

The first of a series of three life-saving contests to be held under the auspices of the Independent Life-Saving Corps and the Aqueduct Bridge Life-Saving Corps is scheduled for Sunday afternoon, June 25, when entrants in five events will demonstrate their knowledge of various methods of rescuing drowning persons and restoring life.

The contests, which are to be held at the Washington Canoe Club, are to be graded, the first being elementary and the contests becoming increasingly difficult. The events in the three contests will be in heats. Maj. Pullman, superintendent of police, has consented to serve as referee. The clerk of the course is to be W. A. Rogers of the Aqueduct Bridge Life-Saving Corps, and F. J. Brunner, swimming instructor of the Washington Canoe Club, is to be starter. P. T. Moran, president of the Washington Chamber of Commerce, has been designated as one of the judges, the others not yet being chosen. Mr. Moran has donated a gold and a silver medal to be awarded to the contestants scoring the highest and next highest number of points in the three contests.

The second and third contests are to be held the middle of July and the middle of August, the dates to be announced later.

List of the Events.

Following is the list of events of the preliminary contest:

16. Final of event 8.

AMUSEMENTS

"Peace and Quiet."
Edwin Milton Royle has chosen as a theme for his latest play the Mexican situation, and he has woven in war, politics and interesting romance between an American soldier of fortune and the young and beautiful daughter of a colonel in the United States Army. The action of the play takes place on the border, and shows the thrilling events now being enacted there.

This play, "Peace and Quiet," described as a melodramatic farce, will be presented next week at the Belasco Theater by Silvio Hein, who has selected the following cast to interpret its many characters: Aimee Dalmores, Mabel Turner, Henry Mortimer, Edwin Morant, George Backus, Gus C. Weinburg, Walter Walker, Edward Gillespie, John Stokes, Frank Nelson, Harry Haddfield, Ivan Miller, Harry Von Weiser and Juan Villanoso.

"The Belle of Richmond."
A southern tale of much charm is "The Belle of Richmond," the four-act comedy drama by Sidney Toler, which will be the offering of the Bell Players next week and for the first time to a Washington audience.

Richmond, Va., is the locale of this play, and the stage settings illustrate the homes of the "first families of Virginia," while the treatment of the theme reflects the courtesy and hospitality of the southern people. Heart interest is maintained throughout the play, and the plot moves swiftly to striking climaxes.

A. H. Van Buren will be seen as Jerry Gordon and Maude Gilbert as Nell Mason.

"The Christmas Letter."
Thomas A. Wise, the rotund comedian, will make his initial appearance in Keith vaudeville next week in "The Christmas Letter," a comedy by Roy Atwell, which won the silver cup given by the Lamb Club for the best sketch of the year played at a club gambol. It is a stage story, and Mr. Wise portrays a typical "prop" or property man. He is assisted by a competent company.

Other attractions will be Kalliyama, the Japanese mental marvel, in new caligraphic feat; John and Mae Burke, the Broadway "revuelets," in musical frivolity; Nonette, singer and violinist; the Bogany pantomime troupe in "Fun in the Bakery"; Cummings and Gladings, in "A Night in a Cabaret"; Kenney and Hollis; P. George, "The Musical Chef"; the pipe organ recitals, and the Pathe news pictorial.

Sunday at 3 and 8:15 p.m. the bill will present Louise Dresser, Billy B. Van and the Beaumont sisters, Pearl Allen, Ed Howard and company and other features culled from the current week's program.

Cosmos.

The new bill at the Cosmos Theater, beginning with the matinee today, will retain the tense little drama, "For Dear Old Penn," by Percy Winter and his associate players, because of its unusual popularity the first half of the week.

The new acts will include Belle Oliver, the Broadway musical comedienne, who will make her first appearance out of "big time" in a repertoire of the musical tidbits and comedy features that made her a New York favorite; Delmore and Moore, in "Behind the Scenes," a playlet of theatrical life, in which the players will "make up" in view of the audience; Polson and Brown, a novel team in artistic oddities, character studies and feature song numbers, with imitations and skits; and Delmore, "the piano bug," in piano reveries, in addition to another act which will be announced in the bill.

The added attractions will include the Pathe Weekly news pictures, a laughable Helme and Louie "funny film" and the big photoplay feature, "The Law Decides," picturing Harry T. Morey and Dorothy Kelly in the leading roles. The Sunday concerts will feature an orchestral program of beautiful selections, in addition to the new specialties presented, with other attractions, including the story of the ball game at St. Louis between the Washingtons and the St. Louis teams, as pictured by the electric scoreboard.

Film Features.

Columbia.

Next Sunday Loew's Columbia will present another big double bill, the regular photoplay feature being "The Clown," in which Victor Moore is pictured, and Charles Chaplin, in his latest picture, "The Fireman." "The Clown" shows how the children's idol risks his life to save one of his little admirers and later sacrifices his career to protect another. "The Fireman" slides down the grassed palm down the coffee and milk from the boiler of the engine and rescues the heroine from the flames. Thursday, Friday and Saturday Ann Pennington, the Broadway star, will be seen in her motion picture debut in "Susie Snowflake." It is a story of musical comedy life.

Excursions.

Glen Echo Park.

At Glen Echo Park this week a special program of new photoplays, with a different bill every evening, is being shown. After the movies the crowd can take its choice of the two-act amusements or dance in the dance pavilion, where the music by the big orchestra is furnished. A series of band concerts by the Soldiers' Home Band is given every Sunday afternoon and evening.

Great Falls Park.

Mildred May Rawson and company of six colonial girls are offering a pleasing musical novelty, "Twilight of '76," featuring a number of old and present period popular songs, at Great Falls Park this week. Other vaudeville features are included in the program, with dancing in the large pavilion overlooking the falls.

free to all. Concerts are given by Steers' Orchestra.

Steamer St. Johns.

The steamer St. Johns leaves her wharf each evening except Saturday and Sunday at 7 o'clock for a four hours' ride on the river, returning home about 11 p.m. The orchestra plays the latest music for dancing. Saturday at 2:30 p.m. and Sunday at 9 a.m. the St. Johns will make week-end trips to Colonial Beach, where bathing, crabbing and fishing are good. The St. Johns leaves Colonial Beach at 8 p.m. Sunday, reaching home about 10:30 p.m. Stops are made at Alexandria on all trips.

Steamer Majestic.

The thirty-six-hour outings of the new steamer Majestic of the Potomac and Chesapeake line offer attractive trips and an opportunity to see the picturesque parts of the lower Potomac. The Majestic leaves here every Saturday for a week-end outing at 4 p.m., spending all day Sunday on the lower Potomac and returning home early Monday morning. She also leaves Mondays and Wednesdays at 4 p.m. and returns Wednesday and Friday mornings.

J. H. PARKER RETURNS HOME.

Progressive Nominee for Vice President Says Situation Is Obsolete.

NEW ORLEANS, La., June 15.—John M. Parker, progressive nominee for Vice President, has returned here from the Chicago convention. Mr. Parker said no one can tell just what will be done regarding the national ticket if Col. Roosevelt finally refuses to run, until the progressive national committee decides the matter at its meeting in Chicago.

Yellowstone Park

Via the Electrified Mountain Route

THERE are two wonders to thrill and instruct on your trip to the Pacific North Coast this summer—the stupendous achievement of electrification of the main line of the "St. Paul" over the great Continental Divide—and Nature's "Old Curiosity Shop," Yellowstone National Park, which is reached by a side trip from Butte, Mont. The Circle Tour of the Park from Butte costs less than via any other northern route.

For 440 miles the main line of the "St. Paul" is electrified (230 miles in operation). Giant electric locomotives haul the all-steel trains—"The Olympian" and "The Columbian"—smoothly, silently, over the mighty Rockies. No smoke, cinders or dust to annoy or mar your vision of the magnificent scenery on view from car window and observation platform.

Milwaukee & St. Paul RAILWAY

Between St. Maries, Idaho, and Spokane, Wash., travelers on the "St. Paul" can without additional cost make this lap of the journey by steamer down the "Shadowy" St. Joe River and across picturesque Couer d'Alene Lake.

At the end of the journey is Rainier National Park and the innumerable attractions of the Puget Sound Country to be enjoyed.
